

Adam Ziegler
21 Pheasant Hill Street
Westwood, MA 02090
781-366-3125
abziegler@gmail.com

twitter: @abziegler
github: @abziegler
linkedin: @abziegler

EXPERIENCE

Harvard Law School, Library Innovation Lab 2014-current

Director (2018-current); Managing Director (2016-2017); Manager, Special Projects (2015-2016); Technology Projects Manager (2014-2015)

I lead a high-performing team of developers, designers, lawyers and librarians solving problems at the emerging intersection of law and technology. Since joining the Lab, I've been responsible for product, growth, strategy, partnerships and legal for our three major software projects: the Caselaw Access Project, Perma.cc and H2O. Under my leadership, these projects have grown to over 60,000 active registered users from across the U.S. legal community, attracted substantial funding and major media coverage and thrived amid the complex institutional dynamics of Harvard University.

Mootus, Inc., CEO and Co-Founder 2012-2014

I founded and led a web startup focused on collaborative legal analysis and knowledge management.

Donnelly, Conroy & Gelhaar, LLP – Boston, MA 2007-2013

Partner (2010-2013); Associate (2007-2010)

I represented a wide array of clients in commercial and financial services litigation and government investigations as part of a leading boutique law firm in Boston.

Goodwin Procter LLP – Boston, MA 2004-2007

Associate with emphasis on commercial litigation and government investigations

Covington & Burling – Washington, DC 2003-2004

Associate with emphasis on commercial litigation and government investigations

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit 2002-2003

Judicial Clerk to Hon. James L. Ryan

U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Division, Appellate Staff 2002

Honors Intern

EDUCATION

University of Michigan Law School, JD, magna cum laude 2002

Order of the Coif; Notes Editor, Michigan Law Review

Davidson College, BA, English 1997

TEACHING AND ADVISING

University of Pittsburgh , Advisory Committee, NSF-funded project led by Prof. Kevin Ashley: “Using AI to Increase Fairness by Improving Access to Justice”	current
GenieAI , Advisor	current
Harvard Law School , Lecturer in Law, “Computer Programming for Lawyers”	2019-2020
Suffolk University Law School , Adjunct Professor, “Lawyering in the Age of Smart Machines”	2017

ACTIVITIES, ORGANIZATIONS AND AWARDS

Berkman Klein Center for Internet & Society , Harvard University, Affiliate	2018-current
Fastcase 50 – Award Winner	2017
Webby Award Winner – Perma.cc	2015
Bar Memberships – Massachusetts, District of Columbia (inactive)	2003-current
Boston Bar Association Co-Chair, Antitrust and Business Lit. Committee, Lit. Section	2012-2013
LawWithoutWalls - Mentor, Expert, Judge	2013-2016
Boston Legal Innovation Meetup - Co-Founder, Organizer	2013-2015
MassChallenge - Accelerator Finalist (Mootus)	2013

SPEAKING AND MEDIA (RECENT)

“Workshop on Automated Semantic Analysis in Legal Text” – ICAIL 2021	Jun. 25, 2021
“What Are We So Far Behind and How Do We Catch Up” – BYU Law School Future of Law Forum	Mar. 3, 2021
“The Rise of Free Law and Its Implications” (panelist) – CodeX Futurelaw 2019 – Stanford Law School	Apr. 4, 2019
LawNext Ep. 18 : How Harvard Put 360 Years of Caselaw Online	Dec. 12, 2018
MIT Technology Review , “Lawyer Bots are Shaking Up Jobs”	Dec. 12, 2017
Michigan Law Quadrangle , “The Tech (R)evolution in Law”	Sept. 1, 2017

TECHNOLOGIES

Programming Languages/Frameworks (intermediate)

Python, Django, VueJS, HTML/CSS/JS, Bootstrap, Tailwind, Postgres

Developer Tools (intermediate)

Git, Github, Docker, Firebase, DigitalOcean, AWS, Jupyter Notebooks

Project Management

Github Projects, Asana, Trello, Airtable

Design, Collaboration and Office

Sketch, Figma, Miro, Illustrator, MS Office, Google Workspace, Notion, Slack